PROCLAMATION COINS AND MEDALS

This pricelist features proclamation issues offered in the same format as used in our Catalogue #43, June 1978. The present group has exactly the same number of colonial issues as did the earlier group while the republican section is very slightly larger.

While considerable expense precludes profitably photographing such a large percentage of the items on a regular list, we have done so herein simply to acquaint unfamiliar collectors with this fascinating field.

Most proclamations issued prior to 1860 were used on a regular basis as circulating "coin"; local collectors usually refer to these items as "commemorative coins". Many of the proclamations are of the same fineness and weight specifications as the regular coinage and many were struck in the national mints using the regular minting machinery.

Our list #43 offered 79 "procs"; we are pleased to state that 60 of those pieces sold. Excluding the comparatively common post-1850 issues, we sold 60 out of 69 items - a very high percentage. More than 30 of those pieces received at least three orders. The point to realize is that there is already a degree of collector sophistication in this somewhat obscure area.

Specifically note that both sides of all items are illustrated except #15 (which is the same as #14 except for the metal), #42 and #73 (one side only) and the post-1850 Bolivian pieces (see our list #43 for photos of the same or similar items). All pieces are high-quality silver unless otherwise stated.

The catalogues used for attribution in this pricelist are all available from us and should be purchased by all serious or potentially serious collectors. They are:

Med = Medina, Jose Toribio, "Medallas de Proclamaciones y Juras de los Reyes de España en America". This book lists, pictures and describes 433 Latin American proclamations. 20.00

Her = Herrera, Adolfo, "Medallas de Proclamaciones y Juras de los Reyes de España". This 288 page volume lists, describes, pictures and gives a history of Sp. colonial proclamations. 27.50

Fonr = Fonrobert. Adolph Weyl, "Die Jules Fonrobert Sammlung uberseeischer Muncher und medaillen". Berlin 1878 auction catalogue, Vols. II and III, 600 pages, hardcover reprint. 20.00

G = Grove, Frank W., "Medals of Mexico" (Mexico formerly included present day Florida, New Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica):
Volume I, Medals of the Spanish Kings (1701-1821), 204 pages, hard green cover. . . 15.00
Volume II, 1821-1971, 480 pages, hard white cover. 15.00

WHERE HAVE ALL THE GOODIES GONE?

By now you have either forgotten our editorial from our list #46 or you have considered some possible alternatives in light of the dilemmas for coin collectors mentioned therein. One way or the other, perhaps you should pause to consider these possibilities:

1) Specialize toward an area that is affordable and that is especially interesting to you. Study past sales records, price levels and availability - become an expert!
2) Broaden your collection scope while also doing one of two things: a) acknowledge that some items are too expensive for you and stop lusting for them to the exclusion of other less expensive but inherently as interesting items, and b) lower your grade expectations and requirements.
3) Collect only the smaller size coins from a country; they are usually much less expensive grade for grade.
4) Collect by major type only. Almost all date series include some rarer dates which might stifle you while not really adding much to the final "appearance" of your overall collection.
5) Unless you are an investor more than a collector, you will find a full Very Fine example adequate to suit your aesthetic desires! And the cost will average 20% or less of UNC.
6) Use some originality in defining the parameters of your collection. Collect a specific motif or the issues of a specific mint or designer. Perhaps a birth year set or items from a particular period of history will interest you.
7) Finally, my most valuable suggestion is that you cease to use standard catalogues as if they were the bible, in defining what represents a "complete collection". If you define the items needed for a specific collection that you would enjoy forming and owning, that collection is "complete" once you obtain all of those items. If you think the standard references have "inside knowledge" as to what comprises any given type or date series, just think about how often they modify their listings! Using their parameters is not only a lazy way to collect, it is probably an incorrect definition of any given complicated series!

REPUBLICAN LATIN AMERICAN PROCLAMATIONS and MEDALS

*67 PERU Fonrobert 9205 type but in GOLD. Proclamation 12 Escudos 1825. Simon Bolivar, the Liberator, proclaimed in Cuzco. Reverse features ruins of the Temple of the Sun. GOLD; 41.5 mm; 41.35 grams. Between five and eight examples known. The only two recent sales known to us were the Superior 1975 ANA auction example (EF $3900) and the Almanzar December 1976 specimen (EF $4650). In both cases the medal was featured as a showpiece. Regarding the prices realized for the previous two examples, if we translate the dollar figures to the current value of these same dollar amounts, the adjusted prices realized were $5540 and $5850. Since both of these pieces went to major collectors, neither could be purchased today even if one wanted to pay the adjusted dollar amount, of course. For that reason we are pleased to be able to offer our lustrous EF-AU example for (net) 5000.00

*68 -Peru Fonrobert 9018 type but in GOLD. Proclamation 8 Escudos 1826. Simon Bolivar, the Liberator, is honored on the 9th of December of 1826 by being offered a lifetime presidency. Whereas this type in silver is fairly often available, we have no records of any other examples in gold. This is probably rarer than the 1825 twelve escudos (above) albeit not quite as exciting. EF with little or no wear but a fair amount of very light surface handling marks 5000.00

*69 PERU (Cont.) Fonrobert 9018, 6 Reales 1826, same design, size and border as #68 on page 10 but struck in silver. 18.2 grams. EF, luster 85.00
